CHOOSE LIFE – Pregnancy Hot Line (909) 398-4838
 “This is the paradox of America’s unborn. No life is so desperately sought after, so hungrily desired, so carefully nurtured. And yet no life is so legally unprotected, and so frequently destroyed.” New York Times columnist Ross Douhat’s reflection on infertility and unwanted pregnancy, 1/3/11.

July 17th, 2016

Practice Generosity

Generosity is a readiness to give and to share. It is one of the first virtues which parents undertake to teach to their little children.

God the Father taught us generosity when He created men and angels to share in His happiness. An even greater act of generosity on His part was His sharing of His Divine Son, Jesus our Savior, with us.

When generosity is directed to the poor, it is called charity. Often we think of charity in terms of money. However, there are many blessings that money can't buy which we, who are not blessed with wealth, can give. Stop and think—what are some of them and do we give them?

God has given to most of us the gift of speech. Often we can bring joy into the life of another by just a few kind words. Try it!

Additionally most of us enjoy the privilege of hearing and take it for granted that everyone can hear, but visually you cannot know when someone does not have this ability. When a person loses the ability to hear, many things become difficult or even impossible. That person may need you to become a hearing aid for them because restoring hearing with a hearing aid is not always possible.

Nearly everyone of us can see. We can be more responsive to the needs of a blind person and more alert to befriend the shy, the timid, the neglected. Those who are blessed with good health and strength can give cheerful assistance to the sick or incapacitated. This is a very Christlike form of generosity.

Some of us have free time. Part of this time may, perhaps, be directed to helping a friend who is overwhelmed with pressing duties or worries.

Perhaps we may give away an extra coat to someone in greater need.

Possibly we may have food we can share from our personal store or garden; even through our employment, food might be discarded and you have the opportunity to request permission to receive it for the good of others. It never hurts to ask for this kind of privilege because many occasions exist and only lack a willing heart to deliver it to another in need.

And, have we checked our talents—our expertise in sewing, cooking, typing, painting, cleaning, general labor of various kinds, etc.? We will be glad in eternity if we have generously shared these talents with the church, an orphanage, or perhaps with a friend or stranger. Selfishness brings unhappiness and by sharing we experience the joy of being loved by God and people. When we meet our Heavenly Father we will wish that we had done more for His other or less fortunate children. We are part of God's plan to dispense His kindness and mercies.

Now think big! Have we considered being a Good Samaritan towards a struggling member of our own family? Is God calling us to serve Him in some needy part of the world?

Generosity is a sister of kindness.

It is a virtue which, like perfume, cannot be showered on another without sharing in the pleasure we bestow!

Modesty
 “Our young people are great imitators. They like to ‘follow the crowd’. This is fine so long as the crowd is going in the right direction. Otherwise, it can lead to serious trouble, especially in the matter of fashion. Too many teenagers say: ‘Everybody else does it, so why can't we?’ If everybody jumped in front of a fast moving train, would you do the same? (Neither shall you allege the example of many as an excuse for doing wrong... Exodus 23:2). There is no security in numbers. What was wrong centuries ago as far as sin is concerned is still wrong today. God made no special provisions for the 20th century. If 99 people do wrong because ‘everybody else does it’, God will punish the 99 and reward the 1 that follows Him. This was proven at the time of the deluge, when he destroyed all, saved Noah and his family. Our Holy Father Pope Pius XII has stated repeatedly: ‘The greatest sin of our modern generation is that it has lost all sense of sin.’ This is true particularly in regard to fashions and the virtue of purity. --Immodest Dress. The Mind of the Church by Louise Martin

REVIEW YOUR FAITH

What are we commanded by the third commandment?
 We are commanded to worship God in a special manner on Sunday.
How does the Church command us to worship God on Sunday?
 The Church commands us to worship God on Sunday by assisting at the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass. Assisting at Mass is the first obligation of a Catholic on Sunday. However, a good Catholic should try to attend other services in his church, if they are held, and to spend more time in prayer and spiritual reading than on a weekday.
